terday with people of all denominations who desired to hear Dr. J. B. Hawthornes reply to Father Pardow's sermon delivered on the occasion of the laving of the cornerstone of the new cathedral in Richmond. His text was: "Other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ." He said, in part:

"I am sometimes asked how much error a man may hold to and be saved. My answer is, that he may cling to much specularity of the said, in part:

"I am sometimes asked how much error amay be the said, in the lingdom of God. In his intellectual conceptions of Christ he may be remote from the truth in many particulars with complex points of the said. If he reads a lost sincer and looks to Christ as the only Saviour; if he submits to Him as the Supreme Law-giver; if he loves Him and tries to be like lilm in purity and benevolence, he shall be saved, even though his views of inspiration, atonement and of the government and ordinances of the church be at variance with the teachings of the Bible. Did this daring monk and preacher cease to be a Christian, and a herald of the everlasting gospel, when the Pope selzed the old thunderbolts of the Gregories and the Clements and excommunicated him from the church and decreed him to temporal and eternal destruction? No historian has ever questioned the purity of his life or the sincerity of his faith. His great offense was that he preached against sin-even the sin of 'the central station.' He charged the Pope and his cardinals with abominable corruption. He told them and their millions of followers that without purity of heart and life no man could be seen the single property of the great and life no man could be seen the single property of the great and life no man could be seen the single property of the great and life no man could be seen the single property of the great and life no man could be seen the single property of the dungeon in which the onterior of the dungeon in which the secution was, 'Lord, I know that the termal Word, that Thou didst descend from heaven into the buson of Mary; that Thou didst ascend to the eross to shed Thy blood for my sins. Dr. Johnson Preaches Fine Sermon to Women.

Women.

At no time in the history of LaurelStreet Methodist Church has the congregation of this church been favored with such excellent sermons, as they are now enjoying from Rev. Dr. Henry E. Johnson, the pastor.

On last Sunday night he preached a sermon on the "Woman and the Home."
basing his remarks on Proverbs 14:1the third in a series of sermons on the making of a happy home—to an andience which taxed the seating capacity of the church.

The Doctor begun his remarks by contending that home was the dearest spot on earth, and that it was even more preclous to woman than man, and that it was just such a home as she made it.
If there be strife, extravagance, indifference, a perverse temper, discontent, slovenness, harshness on the part of the wife, there will only come wreck on the home.
The home-life is a fountain of character, and it is here that our lives are fashioned.

After pointing out the obstacles in the way of a happy home, the pastor offered a remedy for these evils.

"The wise woman will build a home."
said the speaker, "with the foundation of thoughtfulness, appreciation, courtesy and religion. She will be thoughtful and appreciative of those in the home, and do everything which tends to the happiness of those about her. Let there be courtesy in the home. Sweep all faultfinding out; furnish it with old-time kindiness; hea will with open-grade affection; the with courtesy and fungs; the courtesy and home to the Lord Jesus Christ and He will help you to overcome those difficulties which are common in all homes."

On next Sunday night the pastor will

THE LODGE HAS GONE

Week of Business Brought to a Close.

THE OFFICERS INSTALLED

New Supreme Dictator-A Most Pleasant Convention.

After an exceptionally pleasant and ousiness-like session, the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Honor, which for the past few days has been sitting here in annual convention, adjourned finally yes-terday, to meet next year in Atlanta.

On all hands it is agreed that the ses-sion was a most enjoyable and important sion was a most enjoyable and important one. Through the indefatigable efforts of the Rev. Herbert M. Hope, of this city, the Supreme Chaplain of the order, the very perfection of arrangements prevailed, so far as the housing and the entertaining of the visitors was concerned, and the gentlemen leave appurently well pleased with their visit to the capital of the Old Dominion. Many of them went away on the noon trains yesterday, and by to-day practically no remnant of the convention will be left. The body is one of the most select gatherings of men that has ever assembled in Richmond, and many of the visitors made scores of friends while here. So far as the meeting itself is concerned, it may be stated emphatically that perhaps there has never in the history of the order been a more pleasant and harmonious transaction of a vast deal of business of interest and importance.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION.

The last day's session of the Supreme Lodge was chieffy distinguished by the mittee on engrossed bills, when the final revision of all business done occurred. Various resolutions were passed, among them one in appreciation of the services of Past Supreme Dictator Mulligan, who has been a member for the past five years. There was also a resolution of thanks to the press of Richmond for courtesies extended. Another resolution thanked the Rev. Herbert M. Hope, of this city, for his valuable services in connection with the meeting.

The salaries of the supreme officers were fixed at the same figure as last year. It was voted to donate a set of supplies to the Home Lodge, of South Carolina.
